Problem and Solution

Problems

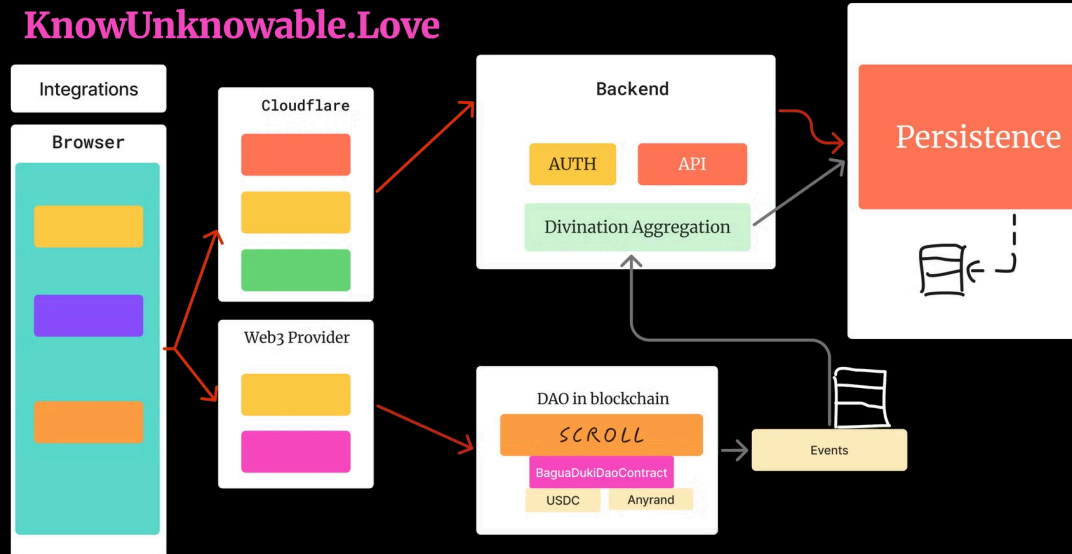

- Many Online I Ching divinations often feels impersonal because it lacks the human interaction that brings depth and meaning to the process.
- The "DUKI In Action" advocated by AllLivesMatter.World is largely unknown in practice; many perceive it as charity rather than recognizing it as a mutually beneficial marketing strategy.
- Web3 projects struggle to attract the masses. Rather than offering genuine value or compelling reasons to participate, many focus narrowly on selling tokens within closed economies, limiting their appeal and undermining the broad adoption they aim for.

Solutions

- Rediscover the true essence of the divination method—transforming 'divide' into 'divine.' Empower users to experience the magic of human-guided divination, cultivating deeply meaningful divinations guided by the will of love.
- This project exemplifies DUKI in Action, serving as a proof of concept. DUKI /dju:ki/, or Decentralized Universal Kindness Income, is a voluntary marketing strategy crafted to uplift all lives. It pledges 1-2.5% of its profits to as cookie a r all living beings - love is the way to win.
- DUKI represents a novel approach to combining blockchain technology, true authority, community governance, and economic participation, aiming to create a more inclusive and prosperous global open economy.
